

Doctoral Internship Agreement – Independent Internship

This agreement outlines an internship arrangement between the Intern and the Organisation (Research End-User). In this specific case, the activities undertaken in the Internship are not contributing to the content of the Intern’s research thesis or any formal aspect of their Doctoral Research Training.

When participating in this internship the Intern is part way through their Doctoral Enrolment at Curtin University. The internship is an agreement between the Intern and the Research End-User and as such, both parties acknowledge that the Internship does not fall under the research obligations related to the Doctoral Course and related research training.

It is agreed that:

- a) the activities of this internship have no overlap with the program of research activities the Intern is undertaking in their Doctoral Studies at Curtin University.
- b) appropriate health and safety, risk and insurance considerations and provisions are in place for the participation of the student in the internship activities.
- c) the research activities of the internship are in a cognate area to the program of research the Intern is completing for their Doctoral Studies.
- d) if the Organisation is paying a fee to the intern it will be stipulated in the below table and the Organisation will arrange payment to the intern, as appropriate.
- e) the internship will be completed according to the information provided as follows:
